Reeves Regional Health Celebrates National Doctors' Day and Invites the Community to the 35th Annual Health Fair

Honoring our healthcare heroes and promoting community wellness

PECOS, Texas (March 28, 2025) —Reeves Regional Health (RRH) is proud to honor its dedicated healthcare providers this National Doctors' Day on March 30 while also preparing to host its 35th Annual Health Fair on Saturday, April 5 from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at 2349 Medical Drive, Pecos, TX.

Honoring Our Healthcare Heroes on National Doctors' Day

National Doctors' Day, observed annually on March 30, is a time to recognize the invaluable contributions of physicians who work tirelessly to improve community health. National Doctors' Day was first celebrated on March 30, 1933, in recognition of Dr. Crawford W. Long's pioneering use of anesthesia in 1842. In 1990, President George H.W. Bush officially designated March 30 as National Doctors' Day.

"In rural Texas, having dedicated doctors is not just a luxury but a lifeline," said Brenda McKinney, CEO of RRH. "National Doctors' Day is a powerful reminder of the incredible commitment shown by our local physicians who provide essential care to our community, often overcoming significant challenges to do so."

"RRH is proud to be recognized as one of the Top 100 Critical Access Hospitals in the nation for 2025 — one of only four hospitals in Texas to receive this distinction," said McKinney. "This recognition reflects the expertise and dedication of RRH's medical staff, who provide a wide range of services, including family practice, internal medicine, general surgery, obstetrics and gynecology, and nephrology."

"Whether it's treating the flu, providing preventive care, performing complex surgeries, or managing chronic conditions, our doctors are the backbone of healthcare in our community," McKinney added. "We encourage everyone to take a moment to thank the medical practitioners who care for us every day."
